

Woodward School, Seniors (10th grade) 1956-57

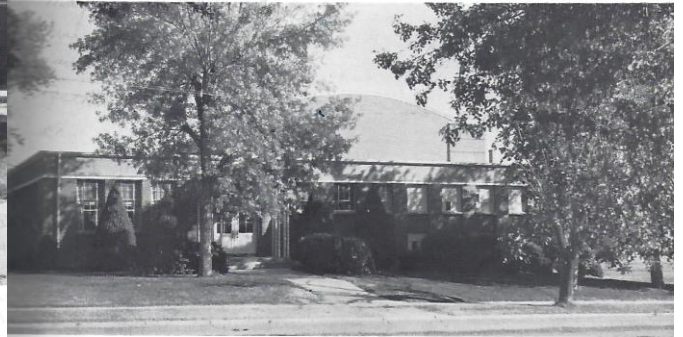

We set the stage within these walls,
 Endeared to players of the past,
 Or on this campus fringed with trees
 Nostalgic memories that will last.

WINNERS OF THE BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT
Barbara—Rosalyn—Penny—Judy—Gail—Martha

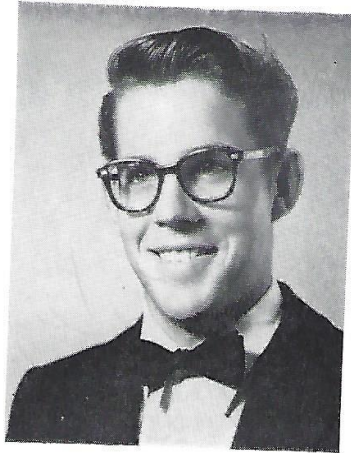

Senior Leaders

Dale Larkin

Our tall, dark, and handsome vice-president—unpredictable on matters concerning women.

Paul Pace

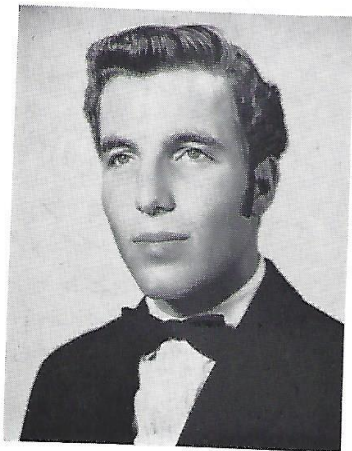

Our talented president—a regular Don Juan.

Sherry H. Jones

She left her alma mater for "the" Jones boy.

Amusements

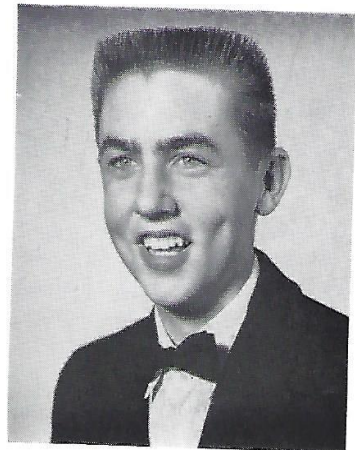

Clerin Zumwalt

Woodward's Elvis Presley. Always the life of the party.

Karlene Hafen

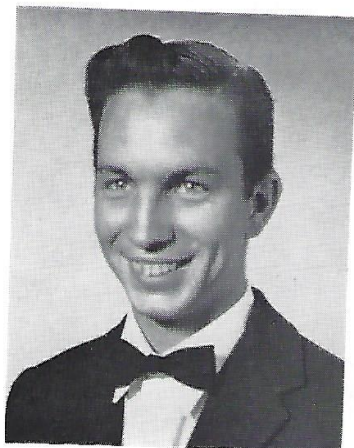

A girl whose memory will last forever in the hearts of all who knew her.

Jeff Holland

An all-around guy. Excels in sports, studies, looks, and dancing.

Seniors

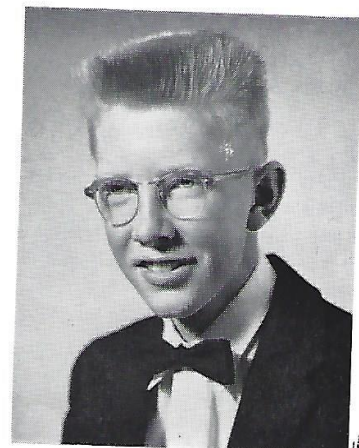

Ray Carpenter

A sharp boy whose big interest is the National Guard.

Jessie Badger

Millard's loss, our gain. Has a bright personality.

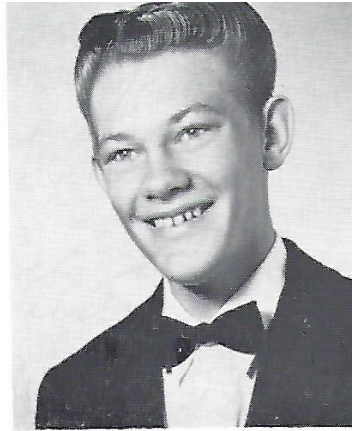

Crawford Brown

All Woodward knows this silent, likeable guy.

Sandra Eastman

A girl with numerous talents. What would the teacher do without her?

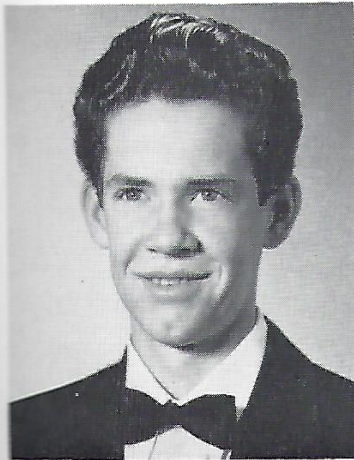

Dennis Hafen

Woodwards big noise. Keeps the school alive.

Anette Seaman

A very welcome addition to Woodward. Very talented in playing the cello.

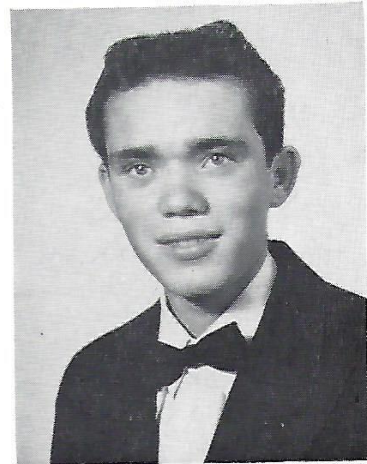

Dorian Graff

He's like a magnet—attracts all the girls.

Marcia Dee Crawford

Interesting with a personality that is often surprising.

Larry Rogers

Will try anything once and some-times twice.

Darlene Alldredge

Trustworthy—handles the money for the Pep Club.

Alex Beal

Who wouldn't like to be chased by him?

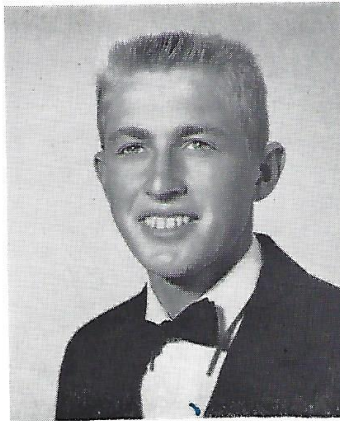

Sharon Iverson

The girl with the mysterious love life.

Judy Paxman

A cute little number with a giggle that matches.

George Staheli

Bishop Staheli's little helper (?).

Barbara Reber

A pint-sized "cutie from Clarie." One of our able cheerleaders.

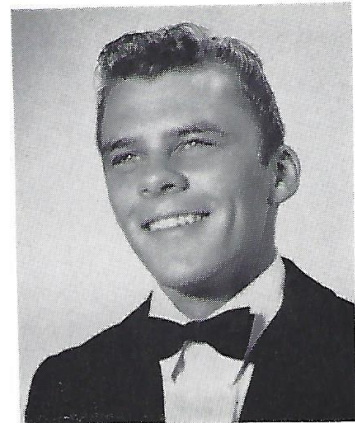

Andrew Leavitt

One of our more law-abiding citizens. Easy to get along with.

Donna Lou McAllister

She has that rare and wonderful combination of brains and talent.

Brent Pectol

Basketball "ace" and general lady's man.

Amy Lu Savage

The best secretary ever. Has a solution for everything.

Durant McArthur

A basketball hero who is a little bashful at times.

Rosalyn Ott

Our energetic harvest queen and comely cheerleader.

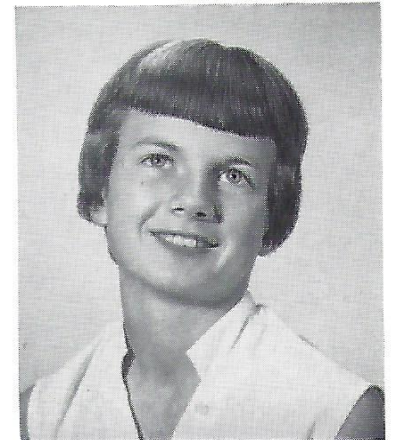

Susan Thomas

Never a dull moment! You can bet on a good time if Susan is around!

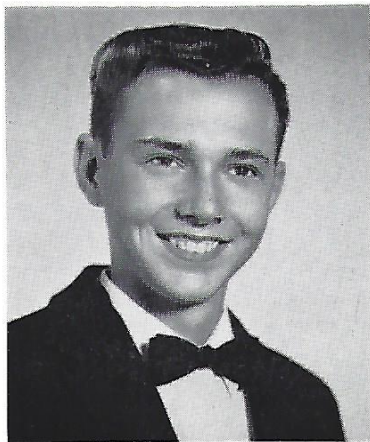

Kay Norman Gubler

Santa Clara really outdid herself on this boy. Look at his picture. Need we say more?

Rhoda Ann Bentley

A cute little girl who occupies a big space in the hearts of all who know her.

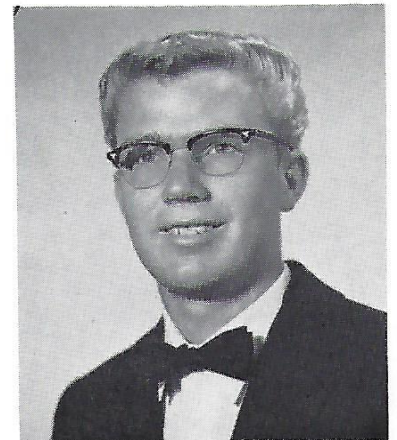

H. Val Hafen

Has his father's brains and his car—when he gets a chance.

Mary Ellen Hunt

A friendly girl who always wears a pleasant smile and has something nice to say.

Larry Hafen

The answer to a teacher's prayer. Still looking for his dream girl.

Mary Anne Reynolds

Full of fun, pep, and vitality. Everyone likes her.

Tommy Thompson

Good looking enough, but just not interested in girls.

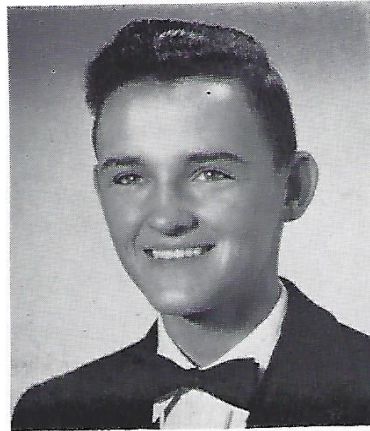

Gail Cooper

A barrel of fun. Everybody's happy when Gail is around.

Ethel Lynn Sorenson

Our capable commissioner of publications. Is pretty and seems to rate with the boys.

Derrill Larkin

Everyone would like to rate with our handsome vice-president.

Lois Fay Stirling

A gal with a contagious smile. You're never uninformed when she is around.

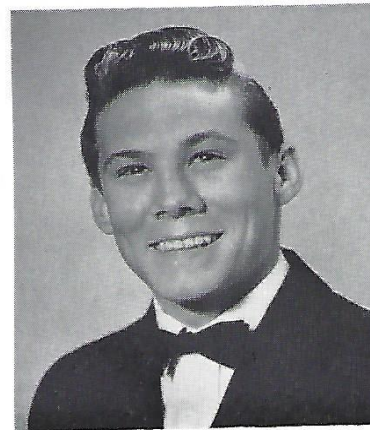

Clare Tobler

Makes life as it comes and has a witty remark for everything.

Janice Beckstrom

Woodward's blond bombshell. Smart and athletic.

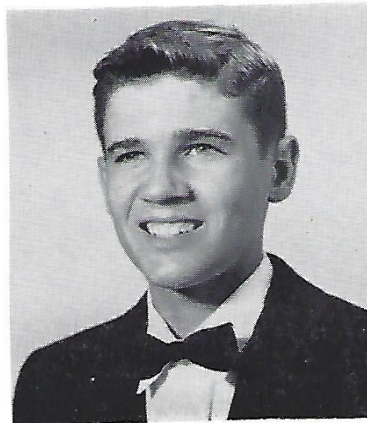

David Owen

Indescribable! He's just "our Enos!"

Marvel Lynn Booth

A marvel of a girl in more ways than one.

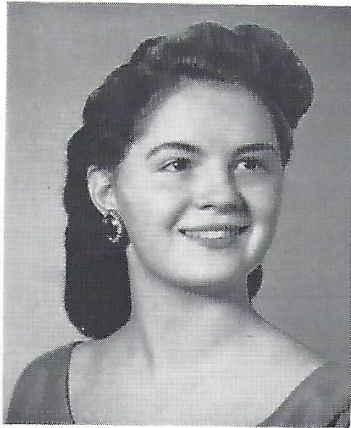

John Phoenix

Interested in sports—not interested in girls.

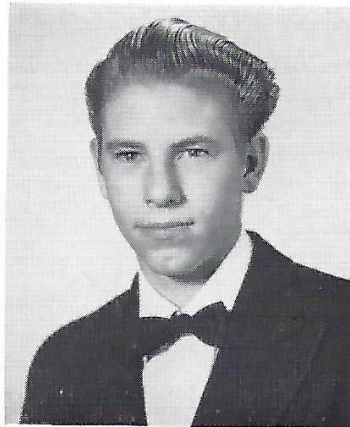

Della Bulloch

Has beautiful brown eyes and lashes that could sweep the cobwebs from any man's heart.

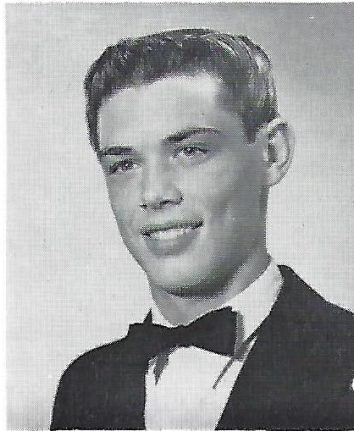

Titine Spilsbury
Shapely and sophisticated. Always has something to say.

Harris Smith
One of Woodward's top athletes.

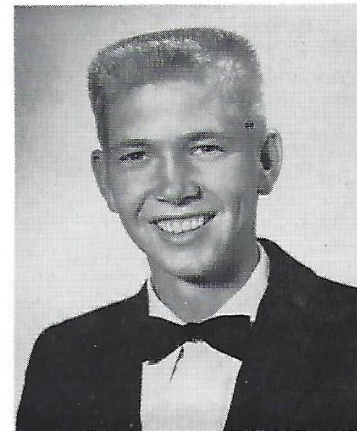

Guin Beckstrom
The gal with the "booming" voice and bewitching smile.

Errol Pectol
Lemonade, women, and song. A solid hunk of brains and brawn.

Penny Hafen
Our ever-smiling student body president. Keeps the boys guessing.

Jerry Sandberg
A gentleman who prefers blondes.

Janice Blake
Doesn't have much to say, but what she says means a lot.

Jimmy Turner
Woodward's dreamiest dancer. Always has something to say.

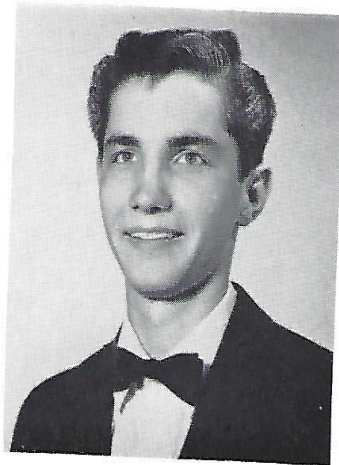

Marilyn McArthur
She has kept her trim figure despite the bakery temptations.

Ila Oliphant

Small but a big asset to the speech class.

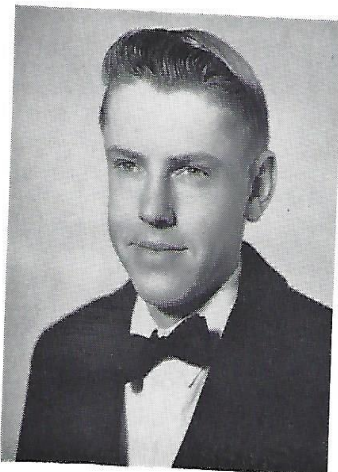

Robert Sommerfrucht

A new addition to Woodward. Tall, dark, and silent.

Rena Bundy

Always willing to help. Very likeable and dependable.

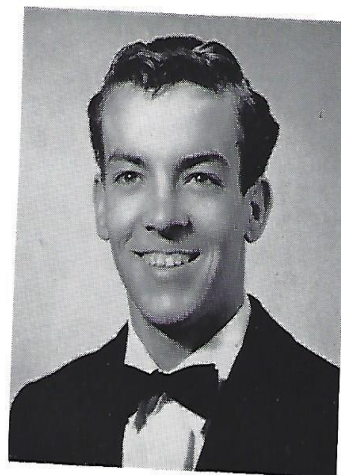

Rulon Nelson

Soft-spoken and gentle; a nice guy to know.

Janice Millett

A number-one athlete. A good sport, too.

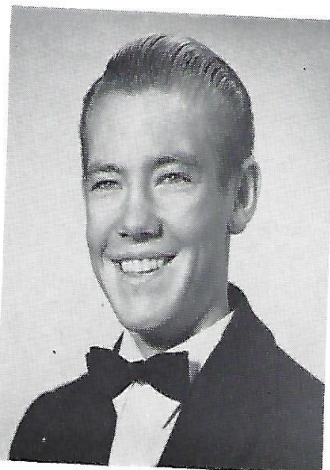

Merlin Alldredge

An all-around nice guy. Has a knack for making you feel welcome.

Sandy Lee Bargo

She enjoys life. Has a knack for making friends.

Stephen Foster

Knows the right thing to do and does it.

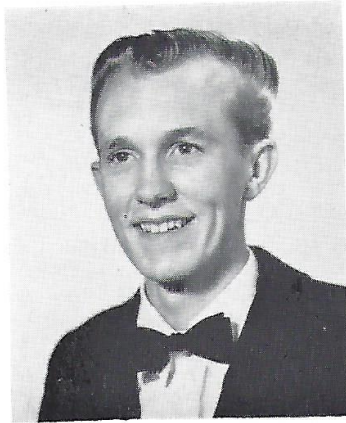

Lillian Fae Alldredge

A wonderful girl—with dimples and ability in art.

Martha Hatch

Our stepping stone to fun. Enjoys lift to the fullest.

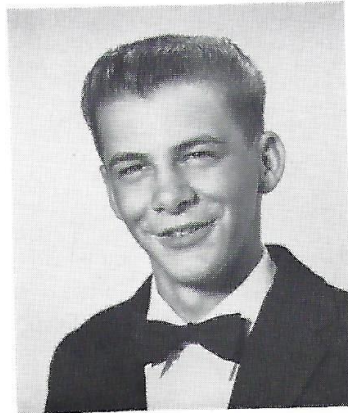

Robert Jones

Our energetic amusement chief. An expert on "Oklahoma Hello's."

Mary Lee Beckstrom

Woodwards blondest blonde who spends her summers at Pine Valley. Nice to know.

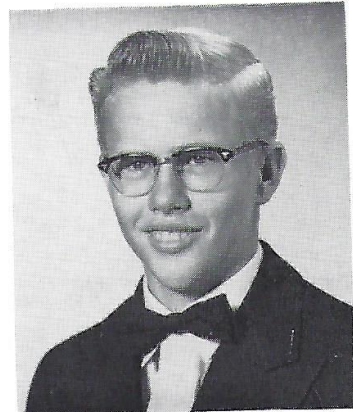

Billy Paxman

One of those Washington pranksters. He's always up to something.

Judy McMullin

Eye-catching—a fashion parade all by herself.

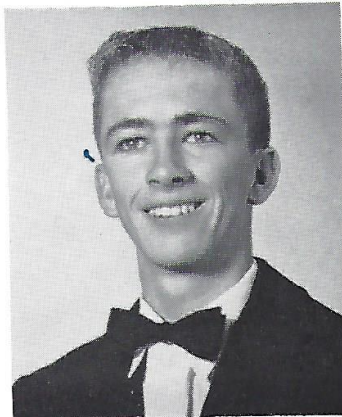

Wayne Iverson

Is more interested in dairying than girls. Can you blame him?

Madge Gillespie

A very attractive girl who is attracted to the sea.

Darrell Baker

Tiny in size, but mighty in character.

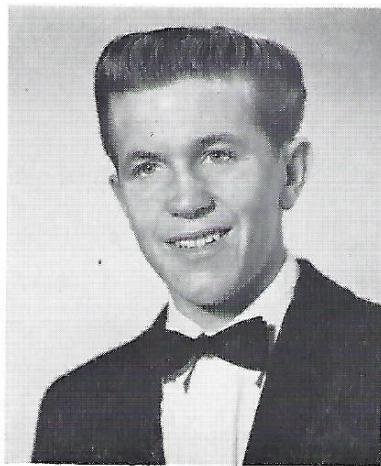

Venna Chadburn

V.C.M.L.F.—Venna Chadburn means Loads of Fun.

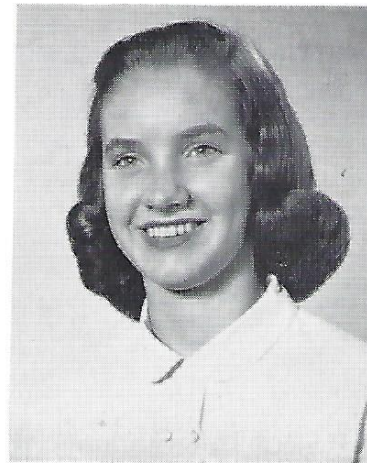

Karen Graff

likes to live dangerously and lives to love dangerously.

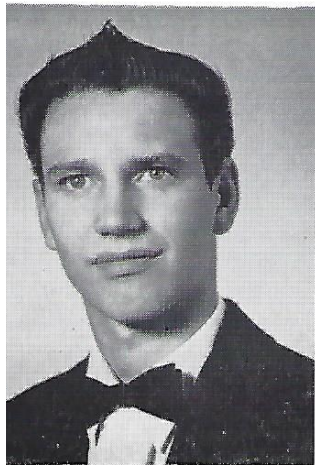

Larry Schmutz

Handy to have around. Wears his F.F.A. jacket with pride.

Venice Gubler

We don't know if she polishes the apple, but she surely has a way with teachers.

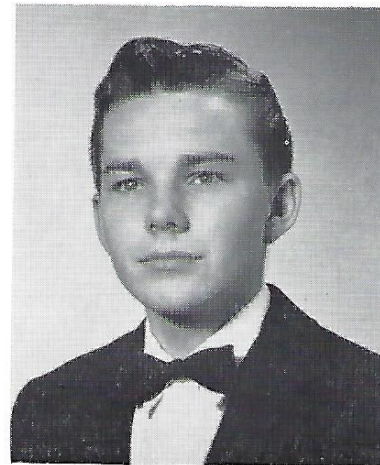

Bruce Wallis

Brains, looks, and a personality that For more information call 134-J.

Janice Young

Has energy, charm, vitality. Let's have a good time!"

Billy Frazier

His first love is the National Guard. He has no other love—not yet.

Miriam Harrison

has a pretty voice and knows how to use it.

Max Iverson

One boy we'll never forget. Max always has something witty to say.

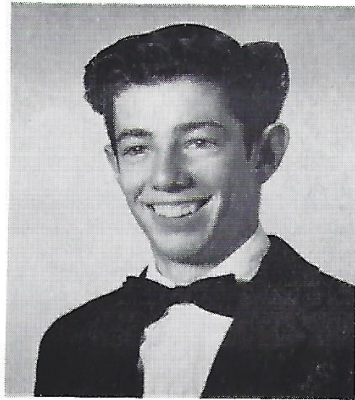

June Stevens

Another of Woodward's good-looking girls. Quiet, but lots of fun.

Clairene Thompson
Loves to give parties. Has special abilities in art and speech.

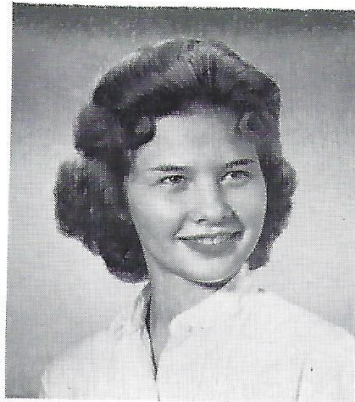

Lee Eagar
He managed to keep his friends in spite of his being chief of police.

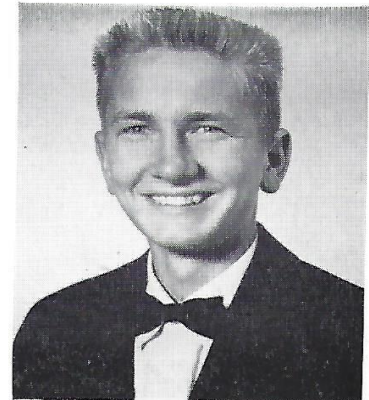

Judith Neilson
Her shy smile and sincerity add to her personality.

Jimmie Rosenbruch
A one-girl man whom everyone likes.

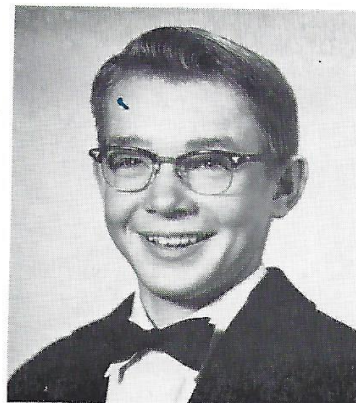

Linda Kaye Lytle
Talented and good looking. Doesn't need to worry about being an old maid.

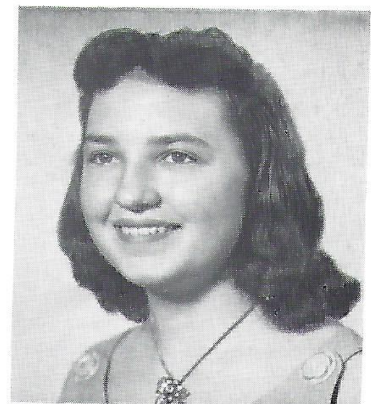

Edward Seegmiller
His range of friends is as wide as his grin.

Deanna Stucki
Lovely girl, really fun when you get to know her.

Floyd Hardman
Always ready and willing.

Colleen Hunt
Cuter than a button—five feet of fun.

Penny Adams

A charming girl; has brains, beauty, and—Bud!

Dennis Daugherty

Teachers give him a headache; he gives teachers a headache; but we love him—don't we?

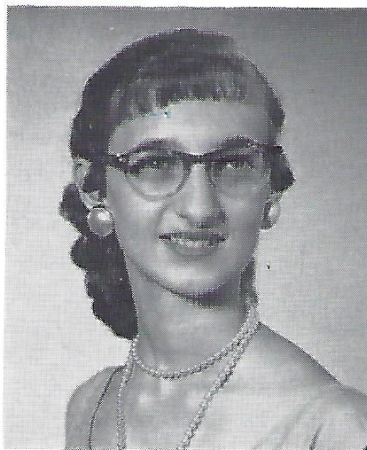

Nancy Shurtliff

One of the very best. A lovely girl with a smile for everyone.

Glenn Hafen

A good-natured fellow who is always game to try anything.

Kathryn Ann McCune

Talented in many ways. You name it, she can do it.

Ronnie Pymm

Always full of fun and mischief.

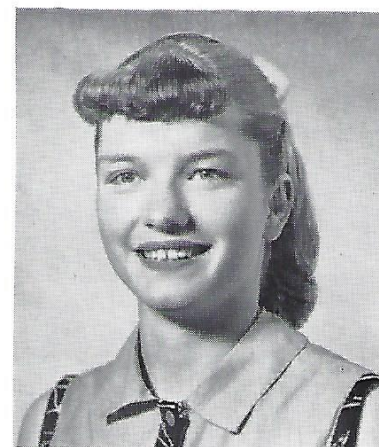

Raye Freelove

A sweet girl whose best quality is friendliness.

Paul Sullivan

One swell guy! A grin for everyone.

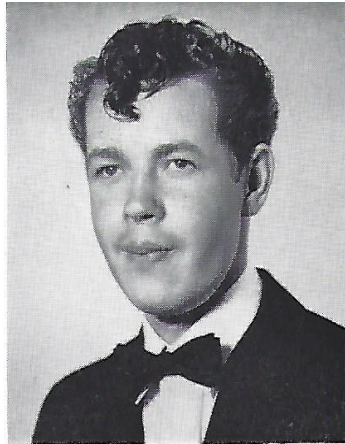

Kaye Freelove

Not as bashful as she would have you believe.

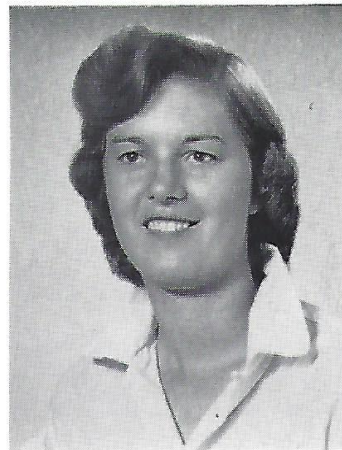

Sandra Bowler

A quiet blonde who keeps us guessing about her love affairs.

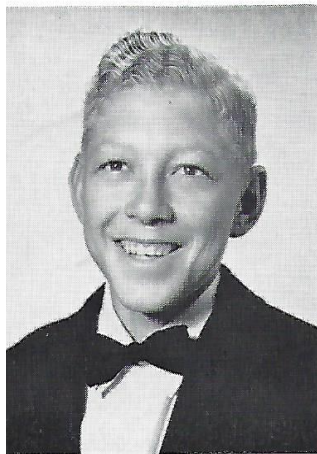

Richard Norling

Prefers the army to Woodward. He is now doing a "stretch" with the National Guard in California.

Sheila Hoopes

Handles horses like an expert. Knows her own mind.

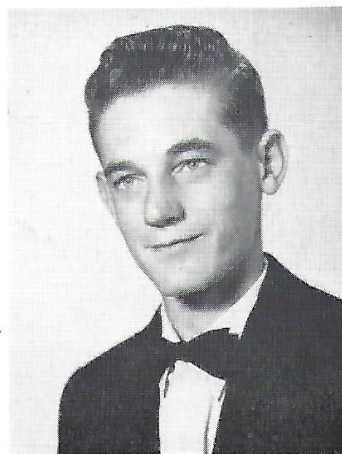

Don Earl

Likes school, but likes summer vacations better.

Lynna Rue Bundy

A wonderful gal who prefers sailors to Woodward boys.

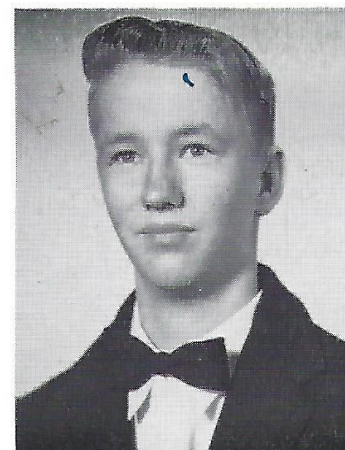

Merlin Empey

The quiet type. Always seems to know where he is going.

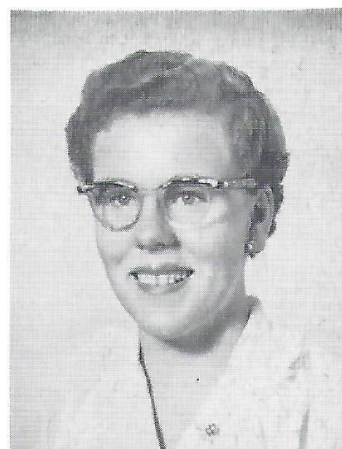

Verona Ruth

No one who knows her will ever forget her.

Billy Freelove

Shy with the girls, but really lives it up with the boys.

Lynda Cottam

A Sixth Warder who really believes in having a good time.

Lolita Farris
A very interesting person. Has acting ability.

Richard Williams
A Washington tease with an innocent smile.

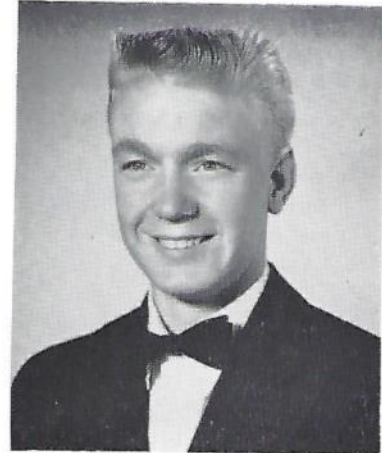

Beth Ann Bruhn
A girl with a sweet voice and a personality to match.

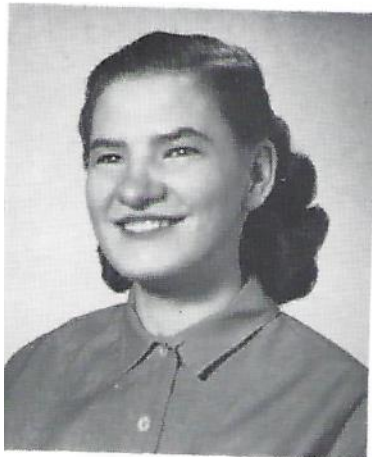

Steven Kirkland
Quiet and unassuming. Does not ask much from life—just a corner and in the dim future a girl.

Anita Wilson
One of our art editors. Always does more than is expected of her.

Mace Stratton
The better you know him, the better you like him. Has a pleasing personality.

Beatrice Olds
Her sweet smile and friendly ways are traits we all admire.

Ralph Hiatt
His philosophy: eat, drink, and be merry, for tomorrow you may diet!

Eleanor Beacham
Friendly and easy to get along with.
